Swans, Jane Mary Cry One Tears

I Live In An Empty House There's No-One There But Memory And Me But I Loved A Woman Once One Hundred Years Ago For A While When She Left Here She Was Filled With Hatred And With A Second Child Now I Heard Nothing Ever Changes But Nothing I Touch Has Stayed The Same Everything Just Turns To Poison That I Have Loved Or Made So Bury My Children's Children In A Deep And Lonely Grave Anything Is A Cause For Sorrow That My Mind Or Body Has Made There's A Fire On The Water There's A Hole In The Sky There's The Devil Coming Down For Me To This Room Where I'll Die There's A Man With A Black Heart He's Standing There Up On The Hill He's Lifting Up With His Burning Hands A Fire That Does Not Kill He's Calling Down To Me Alone He's Calling Down To Me Alone He Says, " Get Down On Your Knees And Cry Alone No One Will Cry For You. & quot; So Jane Mary, Cry One Tear Jane Mary, Cry Just One Tear For Me Jane Mary, Cry One Tear Jane Mary, Cry Just One Tear For Me
