

Sweet Matthew, Missing Time do you realize what they have done showed me I am not the only one planted something in my mind now I've begun to find

missing time
I want back
I'm afraid that I can feel
missing time
I want back
didn't realize they took from me everything my eyes had lived to see even when they touched my heart I felt I could not move
missing time
holds the key
something they left here with me
missing time
I want back
is there something I can almost see 'cause you know they're coming back for me even as you watch us go
missing time
holds the key
missing time
I want back
I'm afraid that I can feel
missing time
I want back
I'm afraid that I can feel
missing time
I want back
