

Sweet Noise, Livin' Without

Man what's your name
Where're you comin' from Where have you been
Is it madness in your eyes
Was it hell on earth
That's you've left behind

Like a dog without a bone
Livin'
Like a dog without...

Straight, straight out of hell
Into the life
Into the world
Will you find
A new place to live
Or will you consciousness
Disappear yeah

Like a dog without a bone
You're living
Like a dog without a bone
You're dying
Like a dog without a bone
Livin' like a dog without...bone

Imaginations, expectations
Things that you lost
Fill your brain with pain. It's real
You're outta place
You won't find a trace of something
That's unreal
It's true, fuck'em man

You're a dog without a bone
The pain's real, it's so real
You're outta place you won't find a place
It's so unreal
You're the only things that's real
Trust yourself, believe in yourself
Push away all illusions
They've always been so cold
Alianated, frustrated
It's so cold out there
Like a dog without a bone
