

Sweet, The Spider

(S. Sala / G. Abry / R. Zahedan)

Take me and touch my mind
Life is cruel but love is kind
When you see the spider grin
Say hello and walk right in

Take me and touch my eyes
See me now walk in disguise
Cats may plea and dogs may bark
See the children in the park

Take me and touch my face
Can a man run with every race
All aboard the mystery train
Once around and back again

Take me and touch my soul
High the sky so deep the hole
When you see the spider grin
Say hello and walk right in
