Sweetbox, Easy Come, Easy Go

Hey, I'm gonna sing you a little song. It's not a message, just a song about life. You know, so it goes like this:

There are times in our life When it just don't add up When we don't get it right And we're fed up

Well, easy come and easy go again It's not unfair; it's simply how it is So easy come and go again

So he took your heart and he walked out that door Well I know how you feel; I've been there before

Hey easy come and easy go again It's let it rip and take it on the chin I said easy come and go again

You've been reaching too far You've been trying too much You've been losing yourself So out of touch

Hey easy come and easy go again It's not unfair; it's simply how it is Say easy come and go again

I said easy come and easy go again It's let it rip and take it on the chin I said easy come

I wanna be a big star but I'm singing in bars So I'm not on the top, not a millionaire

Hey easy come and easy go again It's let it rip and take it on the chin I said easy come and go again
