

Sweetsalt, Saffron Girl

I made you who you are and who you'll always be but you can't see my scars your eyes are closed to me when the sunbeams shine on you i remember the happier times with your hand in mine as a part of your life chorus: you're still my saffron girl i loved you before the sunlight hit the world you're still my saffron girl

you tried to hide your eyes you forgot my name like a little girl in a summer sunflower dress a resemblance still remains when i see you smile
i remember the happier times
i'm throwing out a line to recover your life

(chorus)

maybe someday you will see how much i love you maybe someday you will learn

(chorus)
