

Swing Out Sisters, Another Lost Weekend

Crying to yourself
Lie to someone else
Over borrowed time
The past won't let you forget
Spending too much time
Looking for something you'll never find
You can borrow dreams
Who cares? who cares?

Another lost weekend
Another lost weekend
Leave it all behind
Another lost weekend
Another lost weekend
But it's still on your mind

Wish your life away
You can run away
Look and you would find
The memory's still on your mind
Turn yourself around
And turn your whole world upside down
Just forget the past

Who cares? who cares?

Another lost weekend
Another lost weekend
Just forget the past
Who cares? who cares?

Another lost weekend
Another lost weekend
Leave it all behind
Another lost weekend
Another lost weekend
But it's still on your mind

Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
Just another lost weekend
