

Switched, Inside

Break my frustration,
crack the walls that hold me inside
Never seen the light, Come shining through Never seem to like the likes of you

Are you happy now?
You broke me on the inside, the inside of my soul
Should I have known?
You'd break me on the inside, the inside of my soul

Is it just lack of respect,
these things you do to me,
jealousy is all I see
But you complicate things, manipulate me
And there's nothing left here to believe

Are you happy now?
You broke me on the inside, the inside of my soul
Should I have known?
You'd break me on the inside, the inside of my soul

Harsh words keep on speaking, secrets that you're keeping,
tongue tied to tight to bite off you!

Are you happy now?
You broke me on the inside, the inside of my soul
Should I have known?
You'd break me on the inside, the inside of my soul
You broke me on the inside, the inside of my soul
Why can't you just leave me alone

The inside of my, the inside of my
The inside of my soul
