

Syleena Johnson, I Am Your Woman

ohhhh yeah ohhhh ohhhh

listen baby

lets take a minute and talk about what turned this house into a home i don't what this war's about but we've been through too much not to work it out now you say you've been loving me me only baby faithfully its mighty strange what my eyes can see that you've been cheating around on me im your woman (im your woman) woman woman (oh yes I am so show some respect and treat me with some) im your woman (oh) woman(oh yes i am) woman (and all i ask is that you honour this love)

now i've been dealing with you since sweet sixteen woman enough too let you raise me you used to call me daddys ghetto queen and you still me the world to me no sooner then i say no more i run to you like the corner store

i don't love you enough to hate you but yet i love you too much to leave im your woman (and when the morning comes) woman (you will still mean the world to me)

woman (with breakfast on the table, daddy do you have enough to eat)

im your woman (and everday will be a holiday)

woman(for you and me)

woman(because i am your woman baby love)

i am your woman (just like a diamond ring) woman woman i am your woman (i am you woman....)
