

Sylvan, About To Leave

About to leave
Cling to intimacy you used to feel
No-one ever blames you for your fears
It's nothing but your destiny and
Though it's contradictory
You just leave
Leavedon't turn from separation deserately outgrow the sadness you can not conceal
A journey to an unknown land
A journey that might change it all
No matter who decides
And so you leave!

You'll fill the gap between these worlds.
You'll grab for destiny
You will pronounce unspoken words.
A strange conspiracy
Open your eyes!
Oh yes, you will create chaotic rules
You'll change normality
You came from sun and air and moon.
Fulfill your prophecy
Open your eyes!
