

Sylver, Mystery Of Tomorrow

You smile at me as a painting with no colour
You look at me as a star without a shine
You care for me but you don't hear what I'm saying
I wanna know what you really feel inside
If I could solve the mystery of tomorrow
If I could make some changes in your heart
If I could see the shadows of the future
I wouldn't be alone and torn apart
You dance with me but you don't feel my rhythm
You walk with me but you're always three steps ahead
You talk to me but I don't hear what you're saying
I wanna know what you really feel inside
If I could solve the mystery of tomorrow
If I could make some changes in your heart
If I could see the shadows of the future
I wouldn't be alone and torn apart
