

Sylver, The Smile Has Left Your Eyes

Words

are sometimes hard to find

Silence

can be so unkind

You play with love like you play with words

Cant you see, its me you hurt?

Now my dreams turn into dust

It wasnt love

It was only lust

Words

are sometimes hard to find

Silence

can be so unkind

Youre not the same

Youre playing game

Youve filled my heart with your lies

Youre not the same

Youre playing game

The smile has left your eyes

Words

are sometimes hard to find

Silence

can be so unkind

You play with love like you play with words

Cant you see, its me you hurt?

Love is always a losing game

I pack my bags and forget your name

Youre not the same

Youre playing game

Youve filled my heart with your lies

Youre not the same

Youre playing game

The smile has left your eyes
