

Symphony X, Premonition

Unlock the doors of silence scanning eyes turn into stone pours the wine of hate and enmity

Helpless minds dance in circles forever frozen within time then stare into unlit serenity

Endless dreams are all encased in disarray

Through the eyes of time - I see all the love and tragedy the breath of fate surrounds me and bring me to my knees

Through the eyes of time - I see peace and false tranquility although my scars - they do run deep - right here I'll be Blind visions summoned me return under blackened skies scorned and scathed by the spirit's song

A shadow forbears warning reveals a rhyme, then descends and falls into the black endless sea

Endless dreams are all encased in disarray

Through the eyes of time - I see
all the love and tragedy
the breath of fate surrounds me
and bring me to my knees

Through the eyes of time - I see
peace and false tranquility

Our inner strengths will fill our needs and heal the hearts that still bleed

(Solo)

Through the eyes of time - I see
all the love and tragedy
the breath of fate surrounds me
and bring me to my knees

Through the eyes of time - I see
peace and false tranquility

and heal the hearts that still bleed
