

Symphony X, Sea Of Lies

Today I've seen the shallow face I wear
Inside this shell a living hell endures
I'm held captive by my fear, decaying hope and wasted years
The knife of time carves another line around these eyes

Good and evil lust primeval
Dragging me into a sea of lies
Lies

Losing faith in who I am, oh
Never changing just rearranging my life again
Through eternal abyss I fall, silent screams through paper walls
I pray someday the sun will shine on me again
Shine on me again

Good and evil lust primeval
Dragging me into a sea of lies
Lies

Lies, lies
