

Syndicate Dream, I Have Faith

Look at you, look at me
The look on every face I see
When did we, cease to believe
That love is all we need?
Lied to, cried to, I know you tried to
Get terrified and ripped up inside
Help me help you, I'm here to tell you
Don't give up, it'll be alright

A promise is easy to make
A heart is so easy to break
But I have faith
After all, we are all so very small
And the time that we have here
Should not be spent in fear
It just gets harder and you don't get smarter
Everyday you just slide apart
If it feels alright, then it must be wrong
You're so afraid of the end
That you never start
A choice isn't easy to make
A heart is so easy to break
Yeah, but I have faith

I've been fooled, misused before
And not even known it
I've been scarred
I've been beaten down and never shown it
Lied to, cried to, I know you tried to
Get terrified and ripped up inside
Help me help you, I'm here to tell you
Don't give up, it'll be alright
A promise is easy to make
A heart is so easy to break
But I have faith
