

System Shock, Getting What We Asked For

Is God somehow waving from a distance?
Or an act of some alien existence?
Is it us in this simply tired of waiting?
Are these numbers truly coordinated?

It looks like we need a ship
It looks like we have been found

This is it - this is us
Getting what we asked for
This is it - this is us
Beside a map of stars

This is where we must go!

For endless aeons we were stranding
In a sea of black we have been floating
And now it all seems so ironic
This is the age of pure denial

We were not really there
There was no point in waiting

This is it - this is us
Getting what we asked for
This is it - this is us
Beside a map of stars

This is where we must go!
