

System Syn, All The Human Things

are you in love with all the human things the concepts born and thrown away do you insist despite your eyes theres something that I want you to say dont stay if its for my sake dont wake up if youd rather die dont lie to yourself and pretend you dont see dont be anything for me this is the only chance youll ever have to bring the world down with your voice dont stand still to watch the clouds part they will close if you are silent

did you ever have goals
did you ever have dreams
it just seems so fucking sad how you ended this way
content to be nothing
born to betray your dreams

your light is burning out
close your eyes
it wont be long
I once told you to hold on now I realize I was wrong

give up

the tangible, trivial days do you insist despite your heart there is something that I didnt say

I once told you to be strong
