

System Syn, Somewhere

it feels like things are never changing all these years and Ive been here not lying still but trying to move past the ever growing walls so many questions but theres no one here to ask and its hard to keep on breathing when I wear this mask tell me this is going somewhere anywhere, I really dont care as long as its far away from here and you believe in things youve never seen you pray to worlds youve never gone all this time spent trying to believe you know whats going on and Im just trying to believe in myself is there a time for me when I can laugh louder than Ive laughed before is there a time for me when I can cry when youll do more no, things dont change

I know myself too well to think Im not the same Im not the same things dont change
