Systematic, Slowburn

This lets me serve your purpose I claim what??s mine and drown you Bloodletting your subconscious A loss of all control. And you serve them well. I spréad your life wide open And you don't like what you see This trepanning won't ease you A loss of all control. And you serve them well Trade yours in for gold Bought and sold. I've come to reap this reward I brake you Forsaké you My time to even the score. Controls your mind Give it time. And you serve them well Trade yours in for gold Bought and sold. I've come to reap this reward I brake you Forsake you My time to even the score. You served them well.
