

Tad Morose, No Wings To Burn

I am near you tonight
I'm the dark, the dead, I'm the light
Hear a voice through the black
Soon to burn with the angels

As you open the door
There is no one to help you
Hear you call me once more

Now I see me outside the world, outside myself
I'm one with everything and there's no one else
You call my name now take my hand and fade away
I'm so much stronger now, I have no fear
No wings to burn

Look into my eye
I can see, I feel you're in pain
It's the heat, you're becoming one that burn with the angels

As you open the door
There is no one to help you
Hear you call me once more

Now I see me outside the world, outside myself
I'm one with everything and there's no one else
You call my name now take my hand, Oh, fade away
I'm so much stronger now, I have no fear
No wings to burn
