

Takida, Close Therapy

All this seeking we try to be someone else
I accept this now we could try to pretend
But I don't want this, no I don't know if I can

I wanna know who I am, who you are
I wanna know if you care, if you are

All this wondering why, are we still holding on
Keep the faith she said, but it's already gone

I wanna know who I am, who you are
I wanna know if you care, if you are

I wish I could take this to me like you with open arms
They say time will heal the wounds but nothing happens so far

I wanna know who I am, who you are
I wanna know if you care, if you are