

Takida, Falling Down

In an empty house that's where we live in
Will you come back down, take back my sin
How many times will we take another lie
I've seen the light, I see it every night

Here I am, I keep falling down

Won't you make it right I need another life
I will change my mind I will even smile

Well I want something, someone to talk to Cause I know that I'm losing my mind
And I know I'm wasting my time

Won't you hear me now
Come back down
