

Takida, Is It Right?

Are you still alive,
I thought they'd come for you,
I heard that you died and now you come around I use to stare in wall, believe in me you might fall,
is it really you alone

Is it right, is it wrong, what the hell is going on,
I don't care I don't mind, just show me were you are

In good you believe, in evil not in life,
and now they send you down

The sky is falling down, it feels like I'm gonna drown, and everything is shattered
The shape stays the same,
can you here me call your name, and now we're here gathered What I feel for you, there's nothing you can do
