

Takida, Something's On Your Mind

Hate you I leave you I need you in time, answer myself and it all going down Something's on your mind,
I hope that you could find

Searching my head I don't know if I'll find, you are the one and I feel like a lie

I see your face inside my head;
I try to call but no one there, why are you doing this to me?
I get to see you everyday,
I have a problem come out and play, there's something wrong now can't you see?

Runaway

I see you in my dreams and I can't touch your face, losing myself and it won't go away

Am I what you want me to be,
I know that I'm trying to hard,
won't you tell me to stay,
then I won't go away
