

Tame Impala, The Boat I Row

Many ways to go
It's hard to self-assure when everyone's a pro
Sayin', "It's so obvious," but really they don't know
They don't know, man or machine
Just like a monster that is only a shadow
A shadow
From which I'm already runnin'

Easy, I suppose
And even if it takes a hundred-thousand goes
The way's in front of me 'cause that's the one I chose
I chose, barely a choice
It's always starin' at you, that's the boat I row, I row)
And though it seems to be

Endless
Problems, relentless
I know I'm oblivious
Bit overzealous
Possibly jealous
I run 'til I'm breathless
Try to suppress it
I couldn't bear it, so onward I go
