

Tamia, When A Woman

he met her in his home town a couple of years ago she was beautiful inside and out how could he just let her go he had girls on the side and he tried to hide but somehow she knew still she stayed she stayed

but she would always cry every night but then he noticed a change she no longer had tears on her face when a woman stops cryin

you best believe
she has a new plan
she preparing for somethin new something that doesn't include u when a woman cease to cry shes already to say goodbye goodbye

when u stay out late she don't call to ask where u are (where u at?) she just gives u this look when u come home that says you betta watch yo back fellas listen to yo girl when she tells you that shes all cried out you'd better pray that shes stay

if she no longer crys every night if she doesn't complain any more shes making her way to that front door

shes already to say

just as long as she is arguin fussin & complainin as long as she will cry sometimes everything is all right oh but as soon as she is quiet when u mess up shes silent and has this certain smile apon her face

when a woman stops cryin over you
