

Tammy Cochran, What I Learned From Loving You

Sometimes I still think of you.
Love that's gone by and the things I didn't do.
Time heals hearts, so they all say.
Passage of years slowly pulls the pain away.
There's still a little tenderness left in everything i do
That's what I learned from loving you.

But I had too much to learn to
Hold on to someone like you.
And it took losing you too make me see
The woman you needed me to be.

Times have changed; I have changed too.
Even my eyes turned a deeper shade of blue.
I guess that's all crying they went through
That's what I learned from loving you.

But I had too much to learn to
Hold on to someone like you.
And it took losing you too make me see
The woman you needed me to be.

I don't cry, though we're apart.
And someday soon, someone else will need this heart.
And the next time I'm gonna know when love it is true
That's what I learned from loving you.
That's what I learned from loving you.
That's what i learned from loving you.
That's what i learned from loving you.
