

Tammy Wynette, I've Learned

Darling I've learned how much your heart can cry and yearn
Two lips can pray for your return at last I've learned
Yes yes I've learned the haunting melancholy blues
The heartache when I long for you at last I've learned
Since you've been gone I've been stayed at home
And in this lonely solitude I've lived over each moment with you
Yes I've learned I loved I loved I loved you so
Awful so wrong to let you go yes I've learned
Since you've been gone...
