

Tanita Tikaram, If I Ever

What do you do for fun? what do you do when you want fun days?
I could be just anyone I'm happy to smile and mad on Mondays
The world is a better place now every time I see your face

If I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you
If I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you

Everytime I hear your voice everytime I feel you're near to me
Will you ever make a choice will you ever be that real for me?
The friendship feeling's fine I just want you to be mine

if I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you
if I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you

He comes alive, she comes alive, he comes alive, she comes alive

You can make a madman sane you can make the winters warm again
Promise me you'll never change promise me you'll always stay the same
Cos the world is a better place now every time I see your face

If I ever ever get through to you
If I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you
If I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you
If I ever ever get through to you if I ever ever get through to you

If we ever get together we can always make it better
If we ever get together we can always make it better
