

Tanita Tikaram, Sometime With Me

If I ever wanna be someone
These words undone an evil spell in me
If I ever need to tell someone
This one's who's waiting
So patiently

Good enough
When nothing means enough
It's just time-sweeping
Some time-beaten
Some time with me

If I ever need to hide away
You tell sometime
And still I pray for love
If I ever need to tell too much
You hide sometimes
It never means this love

Good enough
When nothing means enough
It's just time-sweeping
Some time-beaten
Some time with me

I owe you
Not to dance and scar
I owe you
But you never know
No, you never know

If I ever want to shy away
These words, truth spoken
And still I play around
Just to tell you that it's never true
This mind is aching -
It's just for you

Good enough
When nothing means enough
It's just time-sweeping
Some time-beaten
Some time with me

It's just time-sweeping
Some time-beaten
Some time with me
It's just time-sweeping
Some time-beaten
Some time with me
