

Tanya Tucker, Nobody Dies From A Broken Heart

(Randy Sharp/Sonny LeMaire)

Nobody told me
It could ever hurt so bad
I'm having to learn the hard way
Now that you're gone
It's hurting me more
Than any pain I've ever had
I don't know how I can go on
Nobody dies from a broken heart
Give it time, and your dreams will start again
I know love can tear you apart
But nobody dies from a broken heart
Everyone tells me
It's gonna take a little time
Before you find your heartaches slipping away
I know they mean well
And they're just trying to ease my mind
And it doesn't help to hear them say
There nothing anybody's gonna say
That'll talk me out of feeling this way
There's nothing anyone can do
To take away my love for you
I know they mean well
And they're just trying to ease my mind
It doesn't help to hear them say
Nobody dies from a broken heart
Give it time, and your dreams will start again
I know love can tear you apart
But nobody dies from a broken heart