

Taproot, Mirrors Reflection

I'm your mirror's reflection,
What you don't like about me is what you hate in yourself,
You should see through others eyes be4 you go ahead
And make 'em feel like shit stop it
But you won't because you hate yourselves images bitch,
Sometimes I get so frustrated haunting visions in the back of my mind,
Oh you struck a pose w/
Your hand extended open arms in an idiocratic ways you try to lie to yourselves
But you can't break through that sacred wisdom of your spirit...
Used me, but you want to know me.
Sometimes I would give anything just to be somethin more than nothin'...
