

Taproot, Violent Seas

Standing on a land unknown, interpreting the same
Believing in a chance of hope, and see it slowly fade
It's breaking far away, replacing what im made of

Looking for a way to show (That I'm)
Searching for a faith who knows (That I'm)
Screaming for a place to go

(Chorus)
Cause I'm drowning in the violent seas
Of being force fed societies
Shallow end of misery please take me away cause i cant stay
Looking for a way to show that im okay
Screaming for a place like home

Treading in the fears i own of ending up ashamed
While cornered in this life and prone by overbearing waves
That steal what i have saved replacing what i gave up

Looking for a way to show (That I'm)
Searching for a faith who knows (That I'm)
Screaming for a place to go

(Chorus)

Away, far away
