

Tara MacLean, Earthbound

I don't take much care of myself
Since you went there
How dark my piece of sky
Where you don't shine
I know you'll call one day
And whisper of the way you went
And tell me why
And how you're fine

And how we're earthbound, we're all earthbound
Earthbound, we're all earthbound

What was so certain has now
Grown so unclear
I know I'll never find
A heart that's pure
These were all things you knew
But things you wouldn't talk me through
You were too kind
I was too sure

I wasn't earthbound, but we're all earthbound
Earthbound, we're all earthbound

Earthbound, we're all earthbound
Earthbound, we're all earthbound

We're swimming to the stars
At least we'd like to think we are
But we're earthbound
