

Tara MacLean, If You Could

If you could see me now
I wonder what you'd say
Would you turn to smile at me
Or would you turn away
If you could see me now

If you could hold me now
I wonder what you'd feel
Would it all come back to you
What would memories reveal

And you will never know
Until you're standing in my shoes
Just how much you can love someone
And how much you can lose
And if I could make you turn around
To see how we were then
Just one look into my eyes
you'd fall in love again
If you could see me now

If you could hear me now
I'd whisper in your ear
That I will always love you
And you know that I am here
If you could hear me now

And you will never now...
