

Taylor Hawkins & The Coattail Riders, Running In

You're still stranded there
You don't even care
Take the wrong advice
And even take it twice

You don't even try
It's all in black and white
You're still your mamma's son
Not even number one

Don't try and take it too far
'Cause I won't let you
Don't try and take it apart
'Cause I won't let you
You've seen everything
Still you keep coming back

Don't you go inside
With all your second tries
Why don't you save us all
Have a private fall
Take a friend with you
So he can see it too
'Cause any friend of yours
Can even find the words

Don't try and take it too far
'Cause I won't let you
Don't try and take it apart
'Cause I won't let you
You've seen everything
Still you keep
Still you keep coming back

Days and weeks
Behind me
And right back at the start
Days and weeks
Behind me
And still ain't got that far

Memories
I can't say good-bye to my old friends
Again

Don't try and take it too far
'Cause I won't let you
Don't try and take it apart
'Cause I won't let you
You've seen everything
Still you keep
Still you keep
Coming back

Nothing to say
Going in my way
Future is ocean wide
So you can say good-bye
