

Tea For Two, Ignorance

(S. Weber/M. Schumpelt/J.O. Soerup)

dark wheelings and dealings need more than repression also they need people who put up with it and You ignore the first signs, for what you hate for what you hate in its entirety pretending you don't see them - you lie! pretending you don't see the lights at all pretending you don't know them - you lie! pretending you don't see the lights I hear those voices the way they talk, oh it could make me cry as if they really love their nightmare hiding from the light if you don't reach for the stars you will never reach the moon you will remain there alone do you believe, you couldn't change anything why do You say it's not your fault, is it a healthy coat if you excuse injustice as due to be only a cog in the mighty works you will remain there outside the light!
