

TEARs, Beautiful Pain

I'm shaking and acheing and talking to the sky i shiver in the night
but i cant sleep youre dark as the mascara that drips down from your eyes look what youve done to me youre as dark as the ocean

as cold as the rain
youve got me weak with emotion youre such a beautiful pain
such a beautiful pain

so i shelter in the wardrobe and shiver on the stairs and i slide down in the gutter with the leaves and i try to talk to god asif he is really there

and i cling to my pillow
and scratch at my veins
you kiss like a killer
such a beautiful pain

as dark as the ocean as hard as the rain
