TEARs, Beautiful Pain

I'm shaking and acheing and talking to the sky i shiver in the night but i cant sleep youre dark as the mascara that drips down from your eyes look what youve done to me youre as dark as the ocean as cold as the rain youve got me weak with emotion youre such a beautiful pain such a beautiful pain so i shelter in the wardrobe and shiver on the stairs and i slide down in the gutter with the leaves and i try to talk to god asif he is really there look what youve done to me

as dark as the ocean as hard as the rain youve got me weak with emotion youre such a beautiful pain and i cling to my pillow and scratch at my veins you kiss like a killer such a beautiful pain
