

Tears For Fears, Call Me Mellow

Fill the sky with love
Fill the sky with love

I wouldn't mind but she just turned up on the doorstep
Wistful and ashen slightly bedraggled
Last time I saw her she was howling at the moon
Roaming the forest, lupine and rabid

Oh is she wild?
Does she see my inner child?

But then she knows it's like a curse
To find the chosen roles reversed
To unify my universe
To call me mellow

If only I was half my age and she was older
We'd live on ice-cream on Coney Island
I know it's gravity that drags down my balloon
She stays in orbit way after midnight

Oh slip and slide
Does she go all dewy-eyed?

But then she knows it's like a curse
To find the chosen roles reversed
To unify my universe
To call me mellow

She'll dress down for us
She'll break new grounds for us
Watching me cracking up

She'll hang around fellows
With all the groundswellers
Driving me like a truck

But then she knows it's like a curse
To find the chosen roles reversed
To unify my universe
To call me mellow
