

Technohead, Going Down

Spent my life in states of disarray

Wasted time to think of words to say

But don't despair, these words have come from me

I'm going down to be free

Where the sky meets the sea

I'm going down to find some way

To be with you someday- I'm going down.

Saw nothing that I was living for

Messed things up because I was unsure

But don't despair- today belongs to me!

Oh don't despair, escape is what I need.
