

Teenage Fanclub, Accidental Life

Give in to me now I want you I know the past comes back to haunt you there are satellites in heaven watching everything you do

This is a battle that you're losing and life was never more confusing now you're looking for a way out of your accidental life

[Chorus]
But now your life is on the line you can stay inside but you're out of time

You can't reason in your condition and now you see life as a mission maybe I know what your missing tell me what you're going through

All your problems are distractions still waiting for the main attraction and you're looking for a way out
of your accidental life

[Repeat chorus twice]