

Tegan & Sara, Just Me

Locked myself into being you
It seemed easier than finding something new
And I broke them down
Did it all for you
No need, no need for thank you
And so go ahead and change
Go ahead and change
Go ahead and change

Talked myself into being strange
To take your very breath away
And I ask myself why love won't change
So I could take your very breath away
Someone brave the waters for me and for you I will do the same so
No one's very real today
No one's very real today

All I have to give this world is me, and that's it
All I have to show this world is me, and that's it and
All I have to face this world is me, and that's it
Just me, just me, just me, and that's it

Faced ourselves in the mirror last night
To learn who we are so when we know we're right
It's a big competition to get to the top
Common sense takes us up encouraging us
Not to stop, till we get to the top
Don't stop, til the top and so I say
Don't you ever wanna change
Don't you ever wanna change
Don't you ever wanna change
Don't you ever wanna change

All I have to give this world is me, and that's it
All I have to show this world is me, and that's it and
All I have to face this world is me, and that's it
Just me, just me, just me, and that's it

All I have to give this world is me, and that's it
All I have to show this world is me, and that's it and
All I have to face this world is me, and that's it
To the rest you avoid the mess
I won't stray no not me

All I have to give this world is me, and that's it
All I have to show this world is me, and that's it and
All I have to face this world is me, and that's it
To the rest you avoid the mess
I won't stray no not me
Not me, not me, not me,
Not me, not me, not me
Just me, just me, just me, and that's it
