

Television Personalities, The Day The Dolphins L

Beautiful creatures we are in disgrace
Makes me want to bury my head in shame
The sea is in torment and all's not well
Soon we'll have no stories left to tell

And the saddest day for me
Will be the day the dolphins leave the sea

Landscape's in turmoil the fields are bad
The trees stand tall but troubled with despair
Through acid rains they are beyond repair
I hope its not too late to show we care

And the saddest day for me
Will be the day that the dolphins leave the sea

Beautiful creature so beyond compare
I hope you know that some of us still care
Beautiful creature we are in disgrace
Makes me want to bury my head in shame

And the saddest day for me
