

Television Personalities, The Engine Driver's Song

She says she's leaving on the first train
From Liverpool Street in the morning
She says they've had all their chances
Should have heeded her final warning
They say they'll see her to the station
At least let them wave her goodbye
But as the train pulled out
Not a single tear fell from her eyes

Now she's been sad and been confused
She's been accused of things she didn't do
So now she's going home not a moment too soon
To the ones who love her most, engine driver please
Does this train take me home, engine driver please
Does this train take me

Her parents said it would only end in tears

So now she's going home without any souvenirs
She hopes her parents are there to meet her from the train
She falls into their arms and tries her best to explain

How she felt sad and so bemused
She was accused of things she didn't do
So now she's come back home not a moment too soon
To the ones who love her most, engine driver please
Does this train take me home, engine driver please
Does this train take me

Kathy's come home
Kathy come home

Engine driver
