

Temple Of Metal, Malevolent Sky

Feeling alone tonight
The candle lights the way
Incense brings the spirits
Troubled heart will wave the calm
Fighting for position
Unseen to you

Just talking to the sky
Does anybody hear you?

It's going down tonight
They're nothing but amused
Watching a dancing flame
Seeing you drawn to it
Smell of burning wax
Cool breath and eerie vibes
Something's killed the flame

The light of your soul burns low
I think someone is listening

The night sky's awake from a heart that loses faith
Strange heaviness inside
Malevolent sky's awake
Breaking windows, shaking souls

The troubled heart loses faith
Coincidence of nature, anger, and your fear

Hell is full, and heaven's locked the gate
It only serves to provoke, and bring the swarm on you
Awaken malevolent sky

Will you believe?
The heaviness inside
Your very core's enslaved
Threw away your faith
Let darkness take its place
Still you won't believe

The sky has come to life
I think somebody's heard you

Hell is full, and heaven's locked the gate
It only serves to provoke, and bring the swarm on you
Awaken malevolent sky

Still you deny
