

Temporary Basement, Lay Low

i'm sorry bout the things I've said Come see me take me back to bed
I'm working out the things I wrought on you.

It's meaningless which sentence say Each time I lie we're face to face
And turn my back when you need me so true.

I'm chasing again
Every word I once subscribed to in my youth
But closer I get The farther back I move away from you.

lonely without you girl lonely without you i know we should just lay low.

I wish I kept the time I spent Betraying every trust I've bent I'd bottle all these broken words from you.

I can't afford you honesty
You've taken treatment silently
I stain the things you have with grey or blue.
