

Ten Hands, Cast Out Your Demons

(Slavens)

everybody's talking talking all about you don't pretend that you don't know seems you got a problem you don't have to be too smart to guess it right on the nose something's got the better of you and it's sticking to your life like gum on your shoe Everybody's worried worried all about you wondering when you're gonna explode don't be too surprised if they all stand back and leave you alone to carry the load
you better take care of it before it takes care of you you better cast out your demons everybody loves you everybody still cares about you even when you push them away but hey we're all human and you'll push it to the limit you'll wake up alone some day
I know it's gonna be hard but
