

Ten Shekel Shirt, Over The Room

You thought you might never see the daylight
Hope was dim but it was worth the fight
You made it out and your smile is the most courageous thing I've seen

And a hush falls over the room, a quiet salute.
I'll get the wine; I'll get the best I can find.
And Christ in me will rise to greet your cheek,
You made it out and your smile is the most contageous thing I've seen

And a hush falls over the room, a quiet salute to you
Then we all break out and erupt into song
Of celebration, facination,
Your life in daylight has just begun
You made it out and you're moving on You made it out and you're becoming strong
You made it out and your smile is the most courageous thing I've ever seen

And a hush falls over the room,
A quiet salute for you,
So beautiful hmm are you,
So beautiful, yes you,
So beautiful,

And a hush falls over the room
A hush as you walk through,
and a hush falls over the room,
But the hush goes into, A celebration, fasination.
YOUR LIFE IN DAYLIGHT HAS JUST BEGUN.
