Ten Tenors, Rocket

Remove the covers of the morning,
And I don't see the new day dawning.
Just can't cope
Cold shadows hide me as I go through the day
No one at all seeming to say
The feelings they long to convey.
But could it be I am the one who has lost my way?

Why can't I see my future clearly?
Is there a chance that I can break free?
Please help me.
This maze has complicated day into night.
Repetitive hours I see,
My spirit is ready to flee,
Then suddenly you come to me and everything's alright.

You've given me reason to live,
You've given me reason to try,
You've given me reason to stand,
Don't let life pass me by.
Whenever I feel hopelessness,
Whenever I feel I could cry
You Rocket me up to the sky
Give me wings and then I can fly.

Together soaring to the sunrise,
I feel the passion comes from your eyes.
And I know,
Strength cast away the fear and
Faith made the soul sing clear and
Love is the music we can all hear.

You've given me reason to live,
You've given me reason to try,
You've given me reason to stand,
Don't let life pass me by.
Whenever I feel hopelessness,
Whenever I feel I could cry

You Rocket me up to the sky
Give me wings and then I can fly.

Whoa I can fly.
Whoa I can fly.
fly away with you forever.
fly away with you forever.
fly away with you forever.
Fly away 'til end of never.
We'll fly away...

You've given me reason to live,
You've given me reason to try,
You've given me reason to stand,
Don't let life pass me by.
Whenever I feel hopelessness,
Whenever I feel I could cry
You Rocket me up to the sky
Give me wings and then I can fly.

You've given me reason to live,
You've given me reason to try,
You've given me reason to stand,
Don't let life pass me by.

Whenever I feel hopelessness,
Whenever I feel I could cry
You Rocket me up to the sky
Give me wings and then I can fly.

You've given me reason to live,
You've given me reason to try,
You've given me reason to stand,
Don't let life pass me by.
Whenever I feel hopelessness,
Whenever I feel I could cry
You Rocket me up to the sky
Give me wings and then I can fly
